Director of the Mint:
Sir.

Will you kindly let me know whether you have any use in your collection for a Roman denarius,
and of what value it would be.

A gentleman to whom it belongs, refused $80, for it, but since his death, his family desire to sell it, & have no knowledge of its real value.

You will greatly oblige
yours truly
E. M. Hallowell.
